Art Unit: 1742

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fife et al. in view Fife.

Fife et al. disclose the invention substantially as claimed. Fife et al. disclose a method of making a sintered body comprising:

providing a metal powder (col. 2, lines 21-24); and heating the metal powder in the presence of a getter material in the presence of hydrogen with a stronger affinity for oxygen than the metal powder in order to reduce the metal powder (col. 2, line 24 to col. 2, line 38).

Art Unit: 1742

However, Fife et al. do not disclose getter that is a mixture of a hydride and a second material.

Fife teaches that getter material [0012] in the same field of invention can be selected from elements and compounds including hydrides [0014] for the purpose of producing high purity sintered bodies.

Fife further teaches that method parameters of time and temperature can be determined within the art in order to obtain desired purity levels [0020].

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to use getter material as taught by Fife including hydrides, metal powders and combinations thereof, in order to form high purity sintered bodies, one of ordinary skill recognizing that the reduction of the metal hydride forms hydrogen that contributes to the desirable oxygen transfer atmosphere [0003] as desired by Fife.

Furthermore, the determination of outgassing time/pressure and sintering time/pressure would be determined by one of ordinary skill in the art through ordinary experimentation based on the desired purity of the sintered body.
